How things used to work

Radix Public School was maintaining their data regarding students and staff in a traditional manner. It was time consuming and uneconomical process. They were also lacking in maintaining their transport management, fee management, financial accounting etc.

"Wow....OAS.GO is an amazing software for managing everything related to a school"

System Automation challenge

That traditional process worked well enough when it was just small number of students but with Radix Public School's success things got messy and complicated. As it's popularity range expanded and its students base doubled, and trebled, their administration team was barely able to hold it together.

Radix public School's fee management meant every time a student submitted the fee and wanted to know the status of the pending fee, their management had to check the previous records. So management wasted a lot of time just attending to queries like this which could be eliminated with the right tool.

The OAS.GO Experience

Radix Public School stumbled upon OAS.GO when they were trying out various automation software. However, it wasn't even an hour since they began using it that they realized OAS.GO was the software they'd been looking for. The team was really impressed with how easy it was to use.

OAS.GO's student management saved every student's data in a centralized database and managed them in classes enrolled for. This database includes each and every detail required ranging from personal details to academic information.

OAS.GO's staff management saved the employee's information and managed their working schedules, attendance and leaves. It also provided a payroll module which is used for monthly salary generation.

OAS.GO's fee management saved the student fee information and managed their pending fee, and intimated via SMS to students.

OAS.GO's attendance management saved the student's attendance and managed their leaves and absents, and intimated via SMS to parents.

After the Implementation of OAS.GO at Radix Public School, the data is centrally stored and well-managed. It has also helped to automate the transport facility, financial accounting and fee management etc.
